ALUM AFFORDS ARGUMENT.

Board Discusses Its Alleged Danger in Food Products.

The board of food and drug inspection of the Department of Agriculture, composed of Secretary James Wilson, F. L. Dunlap, drug expert, and Dr. Harvey W. Wiley, held a lively session yesterday. Arguments regarding the use of alum in food products were made. The Heinz Company, of Pittsburg, was represented by chemists and attorneys, who discussed the danger of alum in food. The American Baking Powder Association, represented by former Secretary of War Luke E. Wright, and H. C. Morrison, presented the case for the manufac-turers, who held that alum is not inurious to the health of consumers. The Pittsburg chemists, headed by Dr.

M. Andrews, of Philadelphia, fought hard to impress the board with the danger in alum. Dr. Andrews told of experiments made on rabbits. The animals were killed by two drams, he said.

By THE OPTIMIST.

No less a distinguished writer than Dr. Samuel Johnson once uttered the following truth:

THE WASHINGTON HERALD Optimist Club is doing a great work in spreading cheerfulness and light. Shall not perseverance, which has sure reward, be our watchword in our efforts to win humanity over to the right way of living? Every once in a while the club members need a little impetus, a little encouragement in the work they are doing. It is not enough that week by week we write our views on optimistic subjects—although that in itself it a wonderful help—but we must show our optimism in our daily lives. By example alone can we impress upon others the value and the benefit of Optimism. To persevere is to win. Let us not lose sight of that fact. Let the knowledge be a guiding light for us in our efforts, so that we can honestly say that we have striven our best for the upholding of a principle. THE WASHINGTON HERALD Optimist Club is a fast growing organization. Week by week the new members come in, and the club button, with the motto "Let's Help" is distributed day by day. But we can never get too many members. When we have enough members of this club, every one will be an Optimist. There is plenty of room in the world for more Optimists.. Become a member this week, and celebrate your advent into the club by contributing a few thoughts on "Perseverance." Every week live topics are discussed-matters of supreme importance
